

Remote login look and feel change

You may have noticed a small change to the look of the Epic remote login screen. Because our organization is getting so much better at spotting potential security concerns, we wanted to alert you that this small change is expected and logging in is safe. Please see the screenshots below to see the differences:

Past state

Current state:

This change comes as a result of increasing our security and two-factor authentication for remote login. If you have any questions or concerns, please call the Solution Center at 503-814-4357.